

You help NASA to gain new perspectives

You will work on our innovative systems for knowledge transfer, presentation and collaboration, which are used by top companies and universities worldwide. As a leading international developer and manufacturer, we have an attractive workplace. With us you can become part of a very special company:

Recommended by employees, recognised by experts, awarded and favoured by customers.

For UK, we need your drive and your knowledge as a

Presales Consultant AV United Kingdom (m/f/x)

Together we work on the digitalisation of the audiovisual industry, working directly with customers like NASA, Audi and Harvard. Do you find it exciting to have a deep understanding of different network systems? We need support to integrate our solutions into these network landscapes in the best possible way.

My name is René Theiner and I look forward to having you as a colleague. Write to us at jobs@wolfvision.net
