

You show Google
how to communicate
in a smart way.

We are a leading international developer and technology manufacturer with an attractive job offer for you. By joining the WolfVision team you will become part of an incredibly special company that is recommended by employees, awarded by experts, and favored by customers.

As the Sales Lead for Asia, you will independently acquire new end customers and sales partners for our product range of presentation and collaboration systems and solutions in Singapore, and Central Asia. You also manage the WolfVision Asia sales team with responsibility for both budget control, and sales target achievement.
